CTE – Developing A Bright Future

Virginia is striving to provide the best possible educational opportunities for all students in the Commonwealth. As educators, we are fortunate that our policymakers are advocates for education and specifically for Career and Technical Education (CTE). To ensure that we are contributing to this effort, we must continue to grow as educators and as leaders in our profession, The Virginia Association for Career and Technical Education's January 2010 seminar seeks to enhance individual and collective CTE educational leadership in the Commonwealth. You'll want to make plans today to attend this professional leadership seminar for Virginia educators.

This seminar is for all educators (teachers, administrators, and guidance counselors) who wish to enhance their leadership skills. ALL school divisions and CTE division associations in Virginia should be represented at this seminar, and Career and Technical Education leaders should encourage the representation and attendance of their local educators. Additionally, CTE division associations are asked to encourage their officers to participate. It is with your support and participation that this seminar will be a success!
